It would be interesting to know how many folks have heard the saying, “What came first, the chicken or the egg?” I believe that this saying is designed to extinguish or at least cause doubts and confusion concerning one's belief in the creation as relates in the Word of God, Genesis 1:1 “In the beginning God…”

This old saying allows one to ask a few questions concerning evolution or creation. Let us entertain a few questions as relates to our saying. Allow us to ask these questions even though they are nonsensical.

1. Has anyone seen or can fantasize an egg creating itself? In other words, can a chicken egg develop without a chicken?

2. We wonder as the egg started to create itself did the shell become whole before the yoke or did the yoke developed first?

In order to believe an egg or the chicken made itself is to believe in the doctrine of spontaneous generation. Sadly, some will believe anything in order to reject our Creator. “One has only to contemplate the magnitude of this task to concede that the spontaneous generation of a living organism is impossible. Yet here we are—as a result, I believe, of spontaneous generation.” (Wald, George, “The Origin of Life,” Page 270 as published in “That Their Words May Be Used Against Them” page 51, by Henry M. Morris)

Pasteur's Experiment

Louis Pasteur, the notable French scientist, accepted the challenge to re-create the experiment and leave the system open to air. He subsequently designed several bottles with S-curved necks that were oriented downward so gravity would prevent access by airborne foreign materials. He placed a nutrient-enriched broth in one of the goose-neck bottles, boiled the broth inside the bottle, and observed no life in the jar for one year. He then broke off the top of the bottle, exposing it more directly to the air, and noted life-forms in the broth within days. He noted that as long as dust and other airborne particles were trapped in the S-shaped neck of the bottle, no life was created until this obstacle was removed. He reasoned that the contamination came from life-forms in the air. Pasteur finally convinced the learned world that even if exposed to air, life did not arise from nonlife. Reference: http://www.infoplease.com/cig/biology/spontaneous-generation.html

COMMON SENSE MUST BE APPLIED

“For every house is builded by some man; but he that build all things is God.” (Hebrews 3:4 KJV)

NOTE: For addition study see: https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Chicken_or_the_egg